BIG CONFLAGRATION

Aberdeen Visited By Second Largest Fire in Its HistoryThe Maysville Fire Department to the Rescue

Last evening about 6:45 o'clock Rist's livery stable in Second street, Aberdeen, was discovered on fire, and for a time the entire square, including the leading hotel, corner of Second and Main streets, was in great danger of going up in flames.

Soon the entire population of the village was on the scene and the bucket brigade did yeoman service in fighting the fire demon until succor from this side of the river arrived.

The Maysville Fire Department was called on for aid and responded with a hearty good will. With the Kinney Mac the boys crossed the river on the steamer Laurance and were soon on the scene, being received with cheers by the immense crowd gathered at the fire. With the chemical apparatus and the assistance of quite a number of the old volunteer firemen of this city the fire was kept from spreading to other nearby buildings than those already burning.

The fire started in the rear of the big stable and its origin is a mystery. The structure with its entire contents, together with two horses, is a part of Mr. Rist's loss. The home residence of Mr. Rist on the East side of the stable and an old dwelling belonging to W. W. Cooper on the West side were burned to the ground. The contents in the Rist house were saved with very little loss. Dr. Morgan's office with all its contents also went up in the holocaust.

With the exception of the tan yard fire about twelve years ago, with a $20,000 loss, and the throwing out of employment of about fifty men, this is the biggest fire in the history of the town.

Mr. Rist's loss is over $4,000, with an insurance of $1,500.

NOTES.

The fire attracted hundreds of people to Front street on this side to witness the big blaze.

The illumination could be seen on both sides of the river for miles around. It was a grand spectacular sight.

The residence of Mr. L. W. Fulton was saved by the heroic work of the Maysville Firemen with the chemical apparatus.

Aberdeen's are loud in their praise of the service rendered by Chief Hite and his crew, and very grateful for assistance in time of need.

Captain C. M. Phister, as usual, with the steamer Laurance, did great service in transferring the Fire Department to the other side free of cost.

Thomas Lalley, a member of the old volunteer fireman, was badly hurt by falling timber. He received a deep gash in the head which required six stitches to close. He is confined to his home this morning. Drs. Laughlin and Morgan attended him.

Bryant & Kirk shipped two carloads of cattle over the L. and N. yesterday to Jersey City.

Decided Improvement

A. Clooney, Chairman of the Internal Improvement Committee, through the Superintendency of Street Commissioner Ben Smith, has converted Second street extension from a miserable mud road into a smooth and up-to-date thoroughfare. From Limestone to Bridge the road has been systematically macadamized, a six-inch layer of first-class limestone rock with a topping of screenings, thoroughly rolled, constitutes the roadbed, and the completed job is as smooth as a parlor floor. Today no city of its size has better sidewalks and streets than has Mayville, and all owing to the progressive and twentieth century spirit of the city administration.

OLLIE F. AMBROSE

Former Maysville Boy Suicided at Los Angeles, Cal.

The Dover News has received information from Los Angeles, Cal., saying that on November 10th, Ollie F. Ambrose, a Dover boy, and into the yard of his La Palma Hotel, in that also a former resident of Maysville, walked city, and shot himself in the head, dying a few hours later.

Poor health and despondency was the cause. He left a handsome fortune to his wife and two children which he accumulated as the champion window decorator of the United States.

Years ago while a boy Ollie stabbed a colored boy to death near Dover, claiming it was accidental.

His mother, Mrs. Fannie Ambrose, and brother, Percy, moved from Dover to Los Angeles three years ago.

NEW EVIDENCE ON THE TOBACCO QUESTION.

The consideration of tobacco and its dangers has heretofore been largely based on the amount of nicotine contained in the smoke. But there are other products of tobacco which must share the responsibility. Among these are carbon monoxide gas, prussic acid, furfural and some others. Although all of these compounds admittedly are poisonous, their danger depends on the quantities in which they are taken. Recently investigations have been made of some of these toxic products, and the results are of considerable interest. The fact that the action of certain kinds of tobacco has been attributed to the prussic acid in their smoke has induced the Wurzburg hygienist, Prof. K. B. Lehmann, to investigate the charge. He has found that the amount of this compound produced depends somewhat on the rate at which the tobacco is smoked. The slower the current of air through a cigar, the smaller is the amount of prussic acid formed. The entire amount found, however, is too small to account for the effects. So far the burden of the blame for the ill effects of smoking would appear to rest on nicotine. Investigations made by the London Lancet indicate that the ordinary cheap cigar contains the least nicotine in the smoke and the pipe the most, the cigar occupying an intermediate position. Assuming, then, that nicotine is the essentially injurious substance in tobacco, the cigar would appear to be the least harmful form, provided that the amount of tobacco consumed was no greater in this form than in others.

The general impression, however, is that cigar-smoking is the most pernicious form of indulgence in tobacco. This might be accounted for in part by the facts that the form of the cigar makes it possible for young persons to indulge in it when they would not smoke cigars or pipes, that in older persons it lends itself to overindulgence and that the smoke may be inhaled with less irritation and, therefore, that more of the products may be absorbed into the system. Further investigations indicate that the most injurious forms of smoking are not those in which nicotine prevails but those in which there is a larger proportion of furfural. Furfural is about fifty times as poisonous as ordinary alcohol. There is a probability that the least harmful tobacco will turn out to be that which yields a minimum of furfural in the smoke. Although the amount of nicotine present in the cheaper grades of cigarettes is practically negligible, the amount of furfural appears to be sufficient in itself to account for the bad effects attributed to cigar-smoking. The use of tobacco in its various forms is so general that the subject is of almost universal interest. The Journal of the American Medical Association thinks that the smoker is entitled to know the dangers and the safest methods of using tobacco, while educators and all who have anything to do with the young, whether by example or by precept, will appreciate scientific facts with which to back up wise deductions from experience.

IF—BUT!—AND CO.

President Wilson and the Democratic Congress may be able to reduce the costs of farm products to the consumers and keep up the prices now received by the farmers for those products.

Such a system, if it could be devised, would undoubtedly prove exceedingly popular in all sections of the country.

What a hit the Democratic statesman will make if they bring relief to the consumer through lower prices and secure to the farmer as great returns for what he produces at one and the same time.

If Congress meets before April 15 the costs of living should be materially lessened by September 1st.

It should not take the Democratic party more than 90 days to accomplish this reform.

It was so easy to do during the campaign there should be no delay when the party has full power to redeem the promises to that effect.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WHAT THE KNOW-HOW FARMING DOES

Jim Hill the empire builder of the Northwest, while quite a fluent orator, does not always depend upon speech in his efforts to be convincing. Now he has appropriated the motto of Missouri as applied to empire building by "showing 'em." When he wants to convince people that the Great Northern road pierces the bread basket of the world he takes a trainload of wheatgrowers over it; when he wants to convince the world that he has a big corner on scenic America in Glacier National Park he takes a trainload of newspaper men out to see it, and when he wants to tell the people of his own country that they ought to be better farmers he doesn't tell 'em; he "shows 'em."

The government and the various states like to boast of their agricultural farms, where they work out the theory and principles of farming. But Jim Hill goes them one better; he builds demonstration farms throughout the vast domain he has been so powerful an agent in developing, and puts the theories to practical work right next to the man he wants to convince. Sometimes they tell us how many "show 'em" farms Jim Hill owns and operates, but as the great Northwest is not always veracious when it gets to talking about Jim Hill we forbear to give the figures.

For instance, the average wheat yield on nineteen of Jim Hill's "show 'em" farms was thirty-two bushels to the acre, while on the adjoining farms farmed the old way the average yield was but twenty-two bushels to the acre.

Down in Minnesota on the "show 'em" farm Jim Hill's book-farmers raised forty-four bushels of barley to the acre, while the neighbors on the same kind of land raised but thirty-two bushels. Over in North Dakota the "show 'em" farmers raised fifty bushels to the acre, while the farmers next door raised but twenty-four bushels.

There's no use talking after such figures as these, for even the silver-tongued Mr. Hill could not put up an argument that is half so convincing as his "show 'em" farms have done. They talk louder than words as to what modern agriculture means to the farmer, and it is a kind of talking that every man understands.—Commercial Tribune.

EDUCATION AND SUCCESS

The Farmer Is Essential to the Latter.

CATTLE AND THE CHILDREN.

If Two Year and Four Year Old Steers Won't Thrive in Same Feed Lot Why Should Children of All Ages Study Together?

"Johnny, he ain't takin' no interest in his school. I've got a mighty good notion to let him quit an' go to work on the farm."

"How long has he been in school?"

"Oh, he's been off and on about six years, I reckon. He's just finished his Fourth Reader, so he's got enough schoolin' to use on a farm. He's got more than my granddaddy had in his day, an' you know he died worth about $30,000."

"Tell me something about your grand father."

"Well, you see, he come over the mountains when this here was all Virginia, an' he took some land an' began to clear it up an' farm it, an' he—"

"What did you say he paid for it?"

"Granddaddy? Why, he didn't pay nothin' for it."

"How much land did he get?"

"Oh, he could 'a' had all he could 'tend to—a thousand acres was all he could 'tend to, an' he—"

"So he farmed a thousand acres, did he?"

"Not all of it. Some of it was left in timber so the hogs could be turned out to fatten on the beech an' oak mast in the fall. An'—"

"How old were the hogs when he killed them for meat?"

"About two years old. Say, what are you askin' me all these questions for anyhow?"

"I am trying to find out why you think Johnny has enough education to make him a successful farmer."

"I just now told you because his granddaddy made a snug fortune with less schoolin' than Johnny's got."

"Can Johnny go out an' find a thousand acres for nothing?"

"No; of course he can't."

"Can he afford to keep a hog for two years an' fatten him on beech an' oak mast?"

"No. Why, say, look here, I never thought of it before, but my granddaddy got rich just a-settin' still, didn't he?"

"Yes; he did. Where your granddaddy got a thousand acres for nothing your boy will have to take it at a valuation of from $30,000 to $100,000 and make it pay. He can't wait two years for hogs to be ready for slaughter. It must be at eight to ten months. There is no way now for your boy to be a pioneer and get rich sitting still. He must be educated to succeed in the twentieth century."

He Knew—He Had Fed Cattle.

The old trustee turned to the visitor and asked, "Well, what do you think of our new consolidated school?"

"Beautiful! Cost a lot of money, didn't it?"

"Yep, an' it costs like smoke to run it with teachers for all the different grades. But all of us are for it now."

"Were you against consolidation?"

"Yep, I was against it strong. You see, I got the three R's in a single room schoolhouse." He paused, looked at the splendid brick building and continued: "I oughter known better too. Anybody that had fed cattle for thirty years oughter know a consolidated school was better than a one room school."

"Why should you have known? Cattle and children are not the same."

"Look here—just stop an' think for a minute, will you? I've known for thirty years that you can't put weanin' calves, two year an' four year of steers in the same feed lot an' get fast class results. In our of time one room school we had 'em all sizes an' ages in the same lot an' feedin' out of the same trough. It won't work any better with children than it does with cattle."

A school tax is simply a long time investment in brains; therefore the eternal question should not be "HOW SMALL A TAX CAN WE GET ALONG WITH?" but "HOW MUCH CAN WE INVEST TO ADVANCE?" It is a business proposition pure and simple.

Sheriffs Must Turn in All Cash December 31

The new law places a penalty of six per cent. on the sheriff if he does not turn over to the State by December 31st all taxes collected by him and makes him liable for collecting the penalty from tax payers. Some of them have construed the law to mean that they must make their settlement December 31st; but Deputy State Auditor G. B. Likens who has received numerous inquiries about the law, said that the sheriffs still have until March 1st to make their settlements, but must turn over to the State by December 31st all taxes collected up to that time by them.

NO WOMEN MISSIONARIES

Declare They Are Too Prone To Marry and Forsake Work

COLUMBUS, IND.—The Women's Christian Board of Missions of the Tabernacle Christian Church here taboed women as foreign missionaries, saying that they are prone to get married and devote themselves to their homes, which is in restraint of missionary work.

The board was supporting Miss Agnes Lackey, a native of this state, as a "living" link missionary in India, but she recently was married and now and henceforth the board will support a man missionary instead.

The board claims that, while men missionaries sometimes get married, they usually remain in the missionary work.

IN MAYSVILLE

THE EVIDENCE IS SUPPLIED BY LOCAL TESTIMONY

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Maysville what can it be?

Mrs. Della Lunsford, 328 E. Front street, Maysville, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills completely and permanently cured me of kidney complaint and I am glad to confirm all I said in 1908, when I publicly endorsed them. I attribute my kidney trouble to a strain which started with sharp shooting pains through my kidneys, and a dragging down feeling through my hips. I was afflicted regularly with dull headaches and dizzy spells, and often if I had not caught hold of something for support I would have fallen. I was in that condition for several years, up one week and in bed the next. I finally began to notice the symptoms of dropsy, and in a short time I was suffering from this trouble. My feet began to swell and my hands also were afflicted at times in the same way. At night I was restless and always felt tired. I read of a similar case being cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, and I got the remedy at Wood & Son's Drug Store. This relieved me so much from the first that I got another supply, and before long I was entirely cured. Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no others.

HOW THE SCHOOL RALLY WILL HELP

Awakens New Enthusiasm in the Children's Condition.

IT MAKES THEM ALL THINK.

As an Old Farmer Said, "I Believe This Is the Most Important Lot of Young Stock That's Ever Been Exhibited." Did the Investment Pay?

A little over a year ago a man who saw possibilities in the pleasures and enthusiasm of child life decided to invest some money. He had seen much of the world, but determined to try his experiment in his old boyhood home county of Bullitt. He offered the county school officials the dividends from a thousand dollar L. and N. bond, to be used as they saw fit. These officials decided upon an all day rally and picnic, with many and varied contests, so that every child in the county might compete.

During the most perfect October weather Shepherdsville had her first school rally. Early that morning the children began to pour into town by rail, in buggies and surreys, in big farm wagons and on wide spread hay frames, on horseback and muleback, and their friends and relatives came too. By 10 o'clock, the time set for the parade, the town was alive with boys and girls. The staid farmers that braced the courthouse fence were long badges hanging from the lapels of their coats, badges that read "TRUSTEE" or "FRIEND OF THE SCHOOLS." No one seemed inclined to talk about crops or politics.

With a full brass band from Louisville heading the column, 700 youngsters marched, danced and pranced through the old town. It was a parade of exquisite beauty because of the joy that beamed and sparkled in childish faces; it was a parade of grave importance because of the future citizenship that was there. The long line was broken here and there by a gayly bedecked wagon overflowing with snuggly, giggling, rosy faced girls and boys. The contests at the fair grounds were begun as soon as the parade disbanded. These contests were divided into eight sections, so that children of about the same age might enter. There were spelling matches, arithmetic matches, story telling matches, in progress almost continuously. There were potato races, foot races, three legged races, horse races, hitching up races, races for each and every one. Now and then the program would be interrupted by a marching column with its cheer leader. The column would yell itself hoarse and retire amid the applause of the grand stand. Over in the doral hall was a splendid display of needlework, good things to eat and handiwork of all kinds. All of this fun and enthusiasm out in the glad mellow sunshine of a perfect autumn day!

Was the investment a good one? This might be answered by a farmer's answer to the question, "Well, what do you think of it?"

The old man's face wrinkled into a smile that began in the corners of his eyes and gradually spread to his big mouth before he said quietly:

"I have been lookin' at fine stock in this here fair grounds for years, an' I've thought a lot about feedin' an' han'lin' stock, but"—he hesitated a moment, waved his hand out toward a big group of children intent upon some contest and continued—"I believe this here is the most important lot of young stock that's ever been exhibited, an' I'm goin' to think more about han'lin' 'em after this."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

A. C. Burton in Southern School Journal.

The inclination of the earth's axis to the plane of its orbit, together with its revolution around the sun gives us winter in Kentucky, to paraphrase Arnold Bennett. Winter gives us a little school; and as boys and girls cannot see tobacco in winter, they attend a part of the term. Teachers, do your best to inspire them while they are there.

It is only the good teachers who are under-paid. Poor teachers are always over-paid. Take the census of your magisterial district and see if the average is high enough. If it is the basis of rating is wrong.

"Do you draw?" asked a trustee of an aspiring applicant. "Yes sir, I always draw my salary," she replied. "And do you believe in the new psychology," he ask. "No I am a Presbyterian, but I take part in all Churches in the neighborhood where I teach."

A good lady teacher addressed her pupils: "On tomorrow I shall close my ninth term in this district; some one suggest a good motto to put on the board." A big boy volunteered, "Whom the Lord hath joined let no man cast asunder."

We are fond of saying that good teaching gives the pupils knowledge, power and skill. And yet we often go right on stuffing and cramming and having the lessons committed to memory.

Some one has said: "If you want a good teacher, get an Irish girl; she is always bright, witty and in a good humor." The Irish girl should have no monopoly on these excellent qualities. Why should it not be a "Kentucky Girl?"

A noted general once said that he hated war, because it dirtied the soldiers and spoiled their uniform. He wanted his army to "show off" on parade. Too often it is true that real substantial work in school is sacrificed for the sake of showing off.

"My grandad carried this rock to mill, my dad carried this rock to mill and by the eternal, I'm going to carry it." This explains the theory of much of our practice in schools today. Let us pray for the day when all men and women who teach must be trained for the work.

Many great men and women, in other professions, began their careers by teaching school. That may be of credit to those men and women but it adds no glory to the teaching profession.

"Just think how many of the world's great men were born in cabins." This is a popular sentence in free countries. But just think how many of the world's small men were born in cabins. The virtue, my friends, is not in the cabin, it is in the boy.

"Should teachers play with their pupils?" was a good subject for discussion a generation ago. I should revise it by asking, is the teacher fit to play with her pupils? The children need companionable people with whom to play.

A whole lot of clumsy pedagogical thinking will be set right when people come fully to realize that the school belongs to the children, not to the teacher or to the parents.

Corn shucking in this county is on in full blast. The yield is exceptionally large and the quality of the best. Farmers are experiencing much trouble in securing labor. The weather has been very dry and very little tobacco has been stripped.

Drives Out Saloons

Moving picture shows have closed more than 600 saloons in a Pennsylvania city, according to a statement made to court officials and after an investigation, places the shows in the attitude of being a great influence toward temperance and gives their managers a weapon of defense against those who have somewhat discriminately denounced such exhibitions.

Ribolt is Still on the Map

Fleming Gazette.

Notwithstanding Ribolt is nine miles from Mt. Carmel, the roar from the Columbia Gas pipe explosion was heard there and sounded as though a freight train was coming into the village at full speed. The roar was heard also by several people about Flemingsburg who did not understand the cause.

A cloud of mist or fog arising from the seeping gas could also be seen from here.

Greenup to Have Natural Gas

Greenup Gazette.

The pipes for the line of the United Gas and Fuel Co., which passes through the town, will be put through the city within a week, or perhaps a little over.

A large gang of Hungarians are in camp at Smith Branch and are ditching and laying the pipes over the high hills just below town.

This line connects with the line that supplies Portsmouth and connects with the main line in Lawrence county. Greenup will have a direct flow of gas to connect to and it will be in a heavy quantity.

ST. LOUIS NEWSBOY

Is Nearing Completion of 500,000 Mile Hike For $30,000

NEW YORK.—Accompanied by his dog Jack and a crowd of the curious, Julius Rath, who started from St. Louis in 1899 to walk 500,000 miles, trudged into Battery Park and sat down to wait for his wife.

Rath is on his eighteenth trip around the world and has covered to date about 495,000 miles on foot.

Rath was selected from 100 newboys to make a 500,000-mile trip around and around the globe. He was 16 years old when he started out, full of the spirit of adventure and eager to win the $30,000 prize offered by a St. Louis club.

He is now 29 and is looking forward to the time when his wanderings will cease and he can settle down comfortably on a farm with his wife.

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women. Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

The Little Boy and Santa Claus

Ashland Independent.

There was a little boy in Ashland who had found out all about Santa Claus, who he was, where he came from and how he got his gifts. The gentle mysticism had melted out of his faith and he knew it all; so he imparted to his mother his knowledge of the situation, and added confidently, "but I ain't going to tell little sister or the other little boys."

Hereafter when we hear anyone denouncing the Santa Claus fiction we will think of this little boy and his divine philosophy.

AMOS RIGGS

Noted Mason County Murderer of Three Men Get O. K. Tag From Pen.

Thirty In All Paroled By Prison Commissioners

At Frankfort this week the Board of Prison Commission granted thirty paroles. In almost every case, the report said, the parole was recommended by the trial judge or prosecuting attorney, one or both, as well as other citizens and officials.

Among the convicts paroled was Amos Riggs, 44, of Mason county, who served less than 14 years of a twenty-one year sentence, for manslaughter.

The crime for which Riggs was convicted and sentenced by a jury in the Mason Circuit Court on December 17th, 1898, Special Judge L. W. Robertson presiding for Judge Harbeson, was the murder of William Boyd, Riggs hiding in a sinkhole on the farm of Howard Farrow at Mt. Gilead, and killing Boyd and his son, Manuel Boyd, with a shot gun loaded with slugs.

Before the killing of the Boyds, Riggs shot to death Abab Black, aged 30, on the farm of Alex Bramel near Mt. Gilead. This murder it is said, was over a woman, Riggs, serving a five-year sentence in the Pen. for the crime.

Besides the 21-year sentence for killing Boyd, Sr., Riggs was indicted but never tried for the murder of young Manuel Boyd, who married Riggs' daughter, and the Mason Circuit Court docket still records this untold case, which however the lapse of years has practically effaced.

It is reported that two of Riggs' sons are also now in the Pen., having been sent up from Fayette county for stealing. However, it is also known that several of Riggs' other children are honest and well-to-do.

The murder of the two Boyds, following a soon Riggs' return from the Pen. for the killing of Abab Black, inflamed the public mind and his first trial resulted in a sentence of death, but the Court of Appeals granted a new trial on error in the lower court, and this fact, with able counsel, led him down with a 21-year sentence for "voluntary manslaughter."

The evidence given in Riggs' last trial brought out the fact that Howard Farrow had warned the Boyds not to trespass on his land, and as Riggs lived on the Farrow farm, also, it seems that Farrow had told Riggs to keep the Boyds from going over his land, and Riggs, being a dutiful tenant, waylaid and shot both men to death.

It is sincerely hoped for the public welfare, that Colonel A. Riggs, when he returns to his native health will not again go a-gunning.

The officer who arrested Amos Riggs for the double murder was Captain W. B. Dawson, who traced Amos to Ohio and after many legal difficulties lodged him in the Mason County Jail.

Constable Dawson is now confined to his home in the Sixth Ward, quite feeble in body, but right in mental vigor.

WEATHER REPORT

FAIR TODAY AND TOMORROW; COOLER.

The Ryan Lloyd farm will be sold next Saturday by the heirs. This is a splendid farm and a desirable old homestead which has been in possession of the Lloyds since 1832.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer a hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
